TECHNICAL CO-OPERATION COMMITTEE

I Long-term goal, mission statement and priorities for the future

1 Through the adoption of resolution A.900(21) on Objectives of the Organization in the 2000s, the Assembly directed the Organization's organs to focus their attention on, among other subjects, strengthening IMO's technical co-operation programmes and delivery, in order to achieve sustainable development and the effective implementation of the Integrated Technical Co-operation Programme (ITCP).

2 In conjunction with the above resolution, the Assembly also approved resolution A.901(21) on IMO and Technical Co-operation in the 2000s, which states that the long-term goal of IMO's technical co-operation work is:

"maritime capacity-building, as a major contributor towards ensuring safer shipping and cleaner oceans."

3 The Assembly also decided that IMO's mission statement, in relation to technical co-operation in the 2000s, would be:

"to help developing countries improve their ability to comply with international rules and standards relating to maritime safety and the prevention and control of marine pollution, giving priority to technical assistance programmes that focus on human resource development, particularly through training, and institutional capacity-building".

4 The Assembly decided further that the ITCP should focus on the three priorities illustrated in the table below, since together they can ensure sustainable maritime development and efficient and safe maritime transport services, as well as effective environmental protection:

PRIORITIES FOR THE FUTURE OF IMO'S TECHNICAL CO-OPERATION PROGRAMME
PRIORITIES	RESULTS
Advocacy of global maritime rules and standards	International treaty instruments ratified, and implementing national legislation put in place
Institutional capacity-building	Public sector departments capable of ensuring the effective exercise of flag, port and coastal State jurisdiction
Human resource development	Trained male and female experts to develop and manage national programmes for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - maritime safety administration - marine environment protection - development of maritime legislation - facilitation of maritime traffic - technical port operations - training of seafarers and shore-based personnel

II Specific subjects

5 Pursuant to the provisions of the IMO Convention, the Technical Co-operation Committee: (a) establishes guidelines for the development and implementation of the ITCP; (b) considers and prioritises technical co-operation programmes and projects for the implementation of activities for which IMO acts as the executing or co-operating agency; and (c) considers any other matters relating to IMO's functions in the technical co-operation field, including the mobilization of resources and the allocation of such funds of the Organization as may be approved by the Assembly for technical co-operation purposes.
